

Rome, 20 September 2007

Ansaldo Energia wins EUR 50 million order in South Africa

---

Ansaldo Energia, a Finmeccanica company and a leader in the supply of components and services for power generation plants, has won an order worth EUR 50 million in South Africa.

AES Khanya-PE Ltd, the South African project company of renowned international operator AES UK, has acquired from Ansaldo Energia two 170 MW V94.2 gas turbines, including generators and auxiliary systems, for its open-cycle peaking power plant in Port Elizabeth, one of the largest in the country.

This is the first private South African project and Ansaldo Energia will supply AES Khanya on a turnkey basis. This acquisition opens up great opportunities for Ansaldo Energia in a country with an impressive energy and infrastructure development plan.